Foreword

There are places I remember ...

Busy places. Secret places.

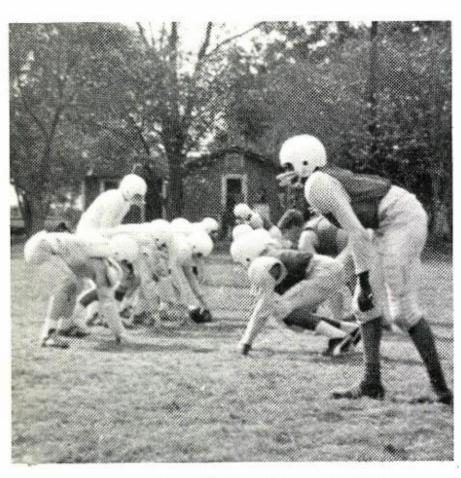

Places one goes to live his life and dream his dreams.

Today they're images - sharp and clear

Indelibly imprinted on the mind.

Tomorrow they'll dim in the haze of forgetfulness Enchanted lands in a world of fantasy.

Unless they're remembered forever in a book ... Vividly. Realistically. Almost magically.

Our purpose in publishing this yearbook is to keep our dreams and activities sharp and clear in our minds as we grow older. Tomorrow our dreams and activities may grow dim and hazy as we busy ourselves with preparations for our future. We hope our yearbook presents a full picture of the 1970-71 school year and that the dreams of each student are reflected.

DEDICATION

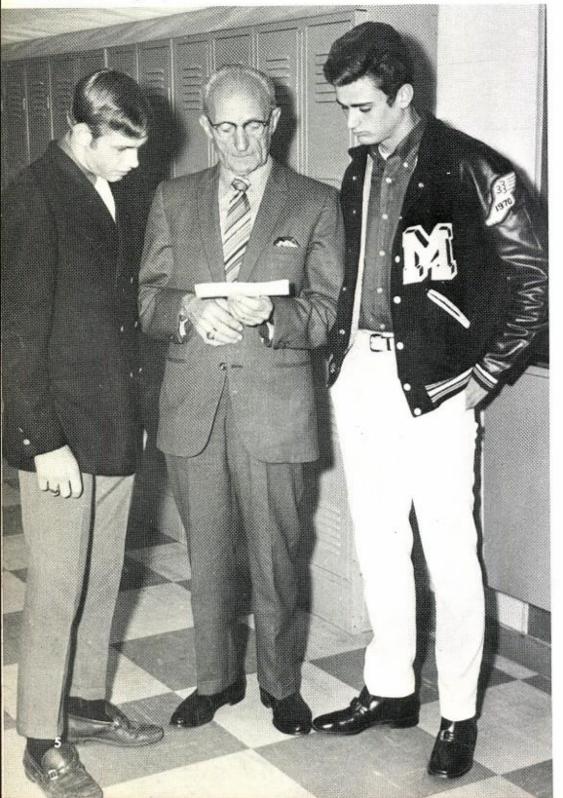

"Where there is no vision, the people perish" Proverbs 29:11

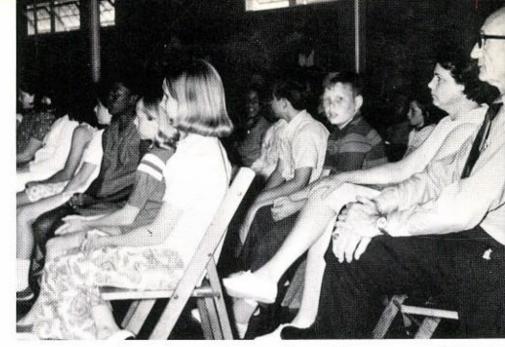

The Seniors of 1971 dedicate this annual to a man who has displayed vision - a vision of what Maud School could be like, and today we see the fruition of that vision.

He not only had a vision, but the courage and tenacity to work to bring it about. His efforts have been untiring, but too often unsung.

So now may we express our appreciation, sing your praises and dedicate our efforts to you
Mr. F. E. Cooley

Inspiring students to achieve their maximum potential is one of Mr. Cooley's pet aims.

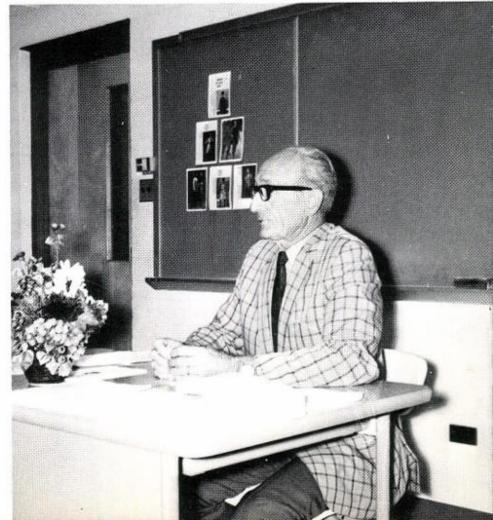

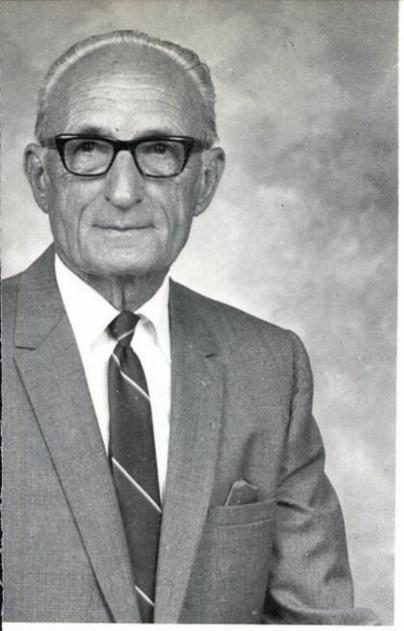

He shows his appreciation for the achievements of his students by attending various performances such as the spring concert.

Mr. Cooley shares with Mr. Hogan some of his new hope and new dreams.

He challenges his teachers at the beginning of the new school year.

Mr. F. E. Cooley stands for progress in his community.

One of his favorite modes of relaxation after a day at school is golf.

His farm is an avocation with Mr. Cooley as his prized animals testify.

Preparing steaks for his family is a skill he enjoys when time premits.

FORTY-FIVE YEARS OF CONTINUOUS GROWTH

When Mr. Cooley came to Maud in 1926, the school consisted of a one story building which was built in 1922. Five teachers made up the faculty with a total of 30 students. Under his administration, an annex was added in 1933, housing the homemaking and agriculture departments. As the enrollment increased, more teachers were added and more space was needed. A gymnasium was added in 1939, followed by the elementary building in 1940.

The school's first hot lunch program was initiated when the cafeteria was added in 1947.

In 1941, the agriculture building was built with an addition in 1963. The homemaking department was moved to a remodeled cottage in 1955. In 1957, a band hall was built and a band teacher was added to the staff.

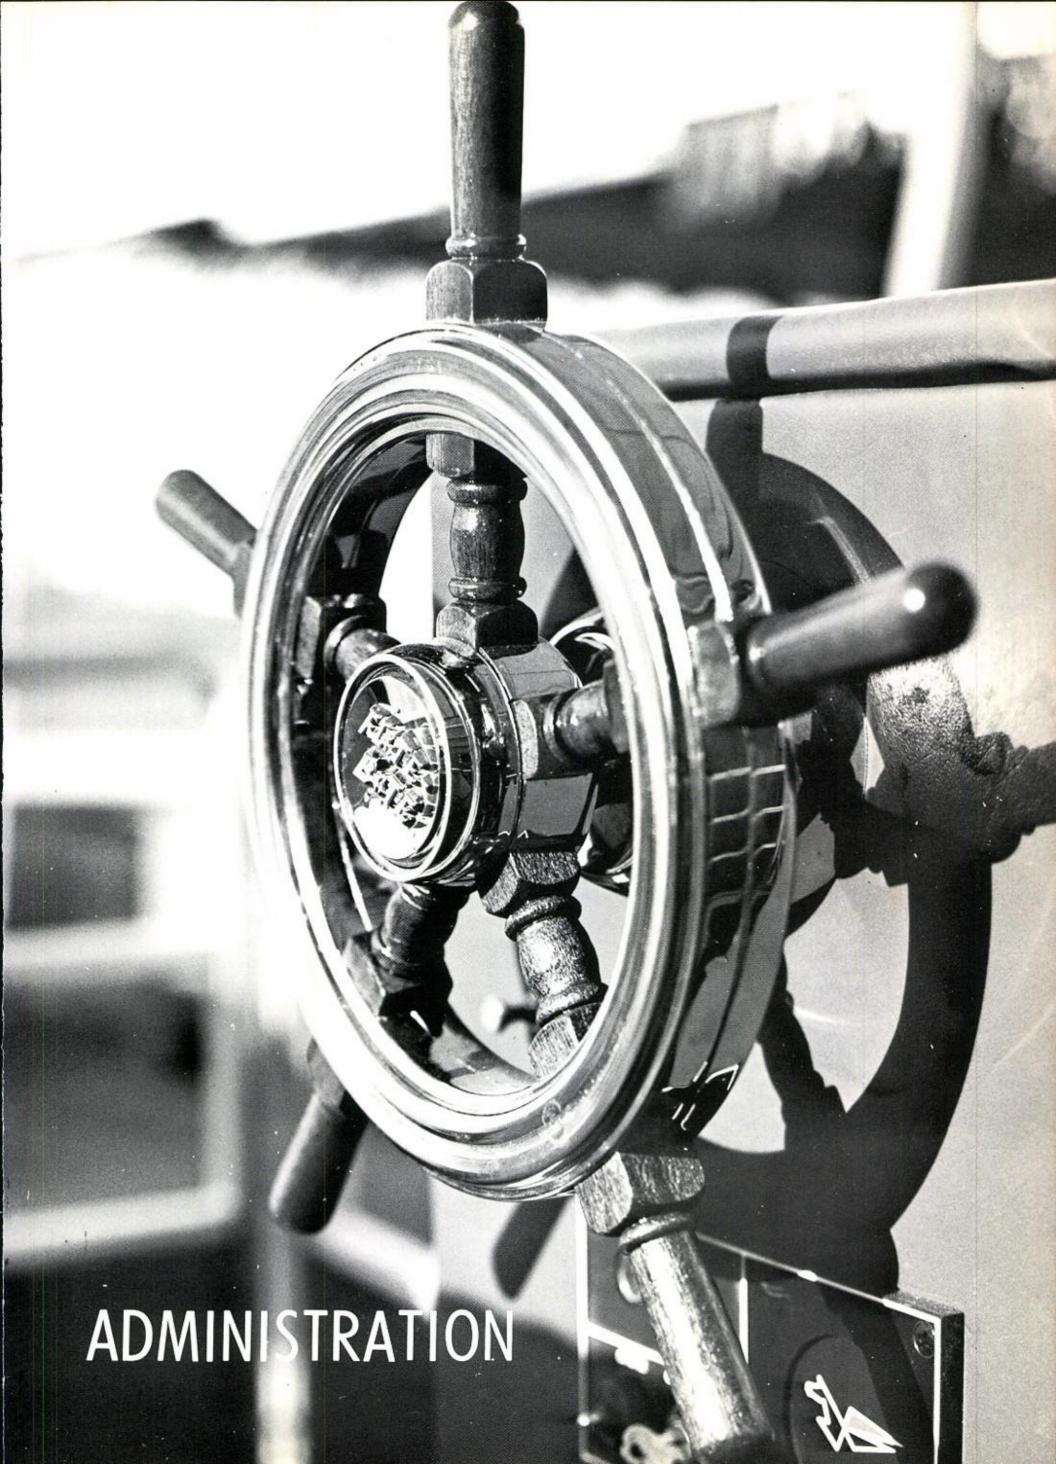

A modern high school building was constructed in 1966 followed in 1969 by an addition equal in size to the original construction. In the summer of 1970 a kindergarten building was added and forty-three five year olds joined the school system.

Thus, under the skillful administration of Mr. Cooley, our physical plant has grown from a one story building in 1926 to a nine building campus plus a football field nearing completion.

The school district now employs three administrators, twenty-four teachers, and ten other employees who further the education of the 560 students now enrolled.

ADMINISTRATORS KEEP WHEELS TURNING

Mr. F. E. Cooley (CENTER) works with High School Principal, Mr. H. B. Stewart (LEFT) and Mr. E. F. Burgess, Elementary Principal, on administrative planning. Each day presents new problems which challenge the decision making skills of these capable men.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

BOTTOM LEFT: Mr. Dexter Clary and Mr. Jake Townsend study recommendations for advancing our school.

A progressive school board such as ours is constantly confronted with major decisions involving changes in our educational system. Although the decisions were made in the 1969-70 school term, many goals have been achieved during this school term. Two major building programs which have been completed this year are the football field and the kindergarten.

TOP LEFT: Mr. Cecil Vandygriff and Mr. Maynard Goza are shown as they enter the kindergarten building to examine the new air-conditioned structure.

BOTTOM RIGHT: Mr. Dorman Green, Mr. Glen Jones, and Mr. Harvey Sharp look over the football field as it nears completion.

"WASHINGTON NEVER SLEPT HERE" PRESENTED BY SENIORS '70

Dennis Lewis displays an air of mystery in his portrayal of Washington's ghost.

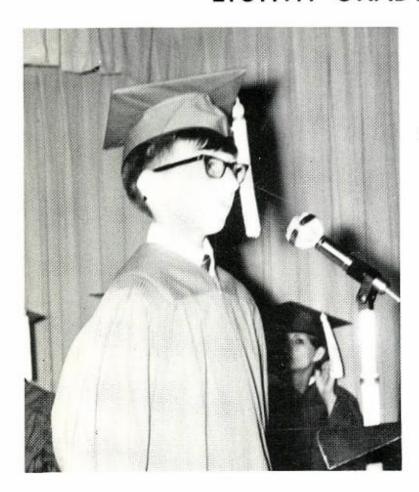

Judy Smith, the nosey columnist, added excitement to the play.

The Senior Class of 1970 displayed remarkable talent in their presentation of "Washington Never Slept Here." The success that the cast enjoyed came as a result of many hours of studying and rehearsing. The Senior Class presented Mrs. Louise Bruton, their director, with a bouquet of red roses to express their appreciation.

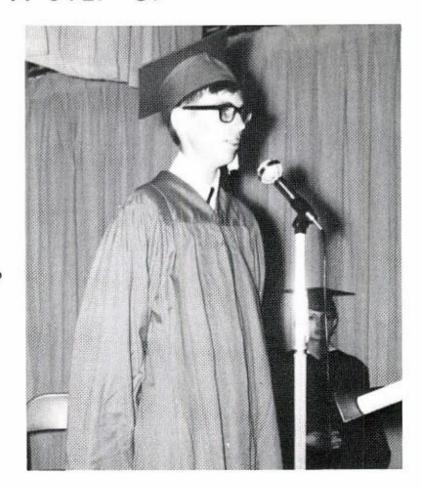

Gail Hatfield added humor to the play as the suspicious baby sister.

As advertising manager of the 197 b. Cardinally I would like to express any thanks to everyone who helped me in the advertising campaign for our annual. I especially want to thank the business firms whose cooperation and support made this campaign successful. I would also like to thank Mr. E. F. Burgess, advertising advisor, for being patient and helpful. I am extremely grateful to the members of the staff who spent many hours helping me make this successful campaign.
